

DK-200 DESK INSTRUMENT

The DK-200 is a kit of parts to allow the 201/2 telephone to be used as a desk instrument.

It comprises a stainless steel mounting plate fitted with rubber feet, a flexible 3 metre cable and a surface mounting socket. If ordered with a telephone the desk-kit is supplied pre-wired and fitted to the telephone.

The installer should fit the BT type socket to a fixed position well within 3 metres of the intended phone position and connect the fixed wiring to screw terminals as follows:
